What did the Romans ever do for us?

Are you a Home Explorer?

- Visit a Roman site. There are some in London, or you could look elsewhere!
- Take a trip to the British Museums—what can you find out about the Romans there!
- Can you live like a Roman for a day? What might you eat, what might you do?
- Create a Roman shield!

Why were the Romans significant to Europe?

Wow moments

- Roman play in a day
- Lion and the Unicorn.

Expert knowledge:

- The Romans lasted for over 2000 years! Rome was founded in 753 BC and the roman empire fell in 1453 AD. That's 2206 years!
- The Romans enjoyed a rotten fish sauce called 'garum'. They covered their food in it similar to how we have tomato ketchup.
- Britain was conquered by the Romans in AD 43, and they ruled here for nearly 400 year. They founded cities like London, Colchester, Bath and Winchester.
- Romans spoke Latin, a language which isn't spoken anymore. We use lots of words taken from Latin such as village, picture, flame language and school.

Time to celebrate!

- Rome was(n't) built in a day
- Konflux theatre play in a day
