

Ready to Launch...

Create charcoal silhouette pictures.

The Great Fire of London

Time to celebrate!

Burning our own London models.

Are you a Home Explorer?

- Bake some scones
- Visit the Museum of London and see the Great Fire exhibit
- Go to a fire open day at a local station
- Inspect your home for fire hazards

Wow moments

- Build and burn London

Expert knowledge:

- Know that the Great Fire of London was over 350 years ago
- Thomas Farrinor was the owner of the bakery on Pudding Lane where the fire was thought to have started
- The fire began on Sunday 2nd September 1666 and burned until Wednesday 5th September 1666
- Over 13,000 homes were destroyed and over 100,000 people were made homeless
- Sir Christopher Wren designed many of the churches after the Great Fire of London including St Paul's Cathedral
- Wren also designed a monument to remember the Great Fire of London